Future REMS EMT Programs- Starting July1, 2015 OEMS will no longer specify minimum course didactic and lab contact hours. Considering these changes that are being implemented by OEMS, Linda Harris is asking for support of G & T in keeping the REMS EMT Program with the same number of hours as has been for last several years. Currently OEMS states minimum of 154 hours for the EMT program and the student can miss no more that 15% of didactic & labs portion. My classes run about 176 + hours with the extra being Saturday labs. And once the student misses more than 15% they are then dropped from program, and that is stated in the orientation book issued to every student on the first night of class. After much discussion the motion was made by Chris Payne, seconded by Pat Fitzgerald to keep the REMS EMT Courses the same as the current standards in regards to hours and % of missed hours. Motion passed.
